

Get the superstar look

Makeup artist to the stars Nicole Prance has become a partner at Discerning Images Photography in York, where her expertise is now being utilised in dazzling makeover shoots. beyond reports...

A top makeup artist who has worked in film and television with the likes of Hollywood actor Sean Bean, Nicole Prance knows how to give people that superstar look. Now she's joined forces with photographer Rob Scott at Discerning Images, Studio 4 in York, and together they're offering people the chance to get a dream makeover for any occasion – and have it immortalised in fabulous, eye-catching photography.

"It sounds great to say you've worked in TV and film, but my passion truly lies in the makeover shoots and wedding makeovers," said Nicole. "Working at Studio 4 gives me real artistic license and I can really go for it and create some gorgeous pieces of work. I love fantasy, glamour, bridal and model makeovers, so the role I have at Studio 4 is just perfect."

How did she come to join the team at Studio 4?

"Rob Scott is a fantastic photographer," she explained, "and we met when Rob was photographing a rock wedding. We clicked immediately and Discerning Images had already made a name for itself in the wedding, commercial, model and rock market, so I couldn't turn down the opportunity. Rob always puts the customer first and isn't satisfied with simply good work - it has to be great; it has to have the wow factor. We quickly began to realise that by combining both of our skills we could offer something really unique and special.

"We both share a passion for working hard. Together we're producing images that are out of this world. We're now Brides Magazine's recommended photographer in North Yorkshire for 2010, and the makeovers I do are now part of the wedding service if that's what the bride wants."

Nicole may be one of the best known makeup artists in the North, but she's anything but complacent.

"The most important thing is to keep your ideas fresh and always ensure that you're using the best products. I'm always looking for inspiration for my next makeup creation. I'm really easy going and always strive to make my client feel amazing and confident. And my brain is always ticking away trying to think of new business ideas to ensure that Studio 4 stays at the top."
